

2006 DAU Catalog Now Available

The 2006 DAU Catalog has been posted at <http://www.dau.mil/catalog>. The version you will find there is the traditional .pdf file broken down by chapter and appendix as well as the Catalog in its entirety.

Web site revisions are underway which will simplify access to some sections of the Catalog. A new Web page, under "Training Courses," will allow the reader to look specifically for certification requirements by career field, course descriptions by course number, and other important student information with only a click or two. We expect the new site to be operational NLT October 1.

Hardcopies will be available in early October; you can request a Catalog on CD or in hardcopy (please specify) by contacting our Student Services Office at student.services@dau.mil (hardcopies are limited to one copy per request). Information in the paper Catalog is current as of October 1, 2005. The Catalog is updated online periodically throughout the training year and new CDs are produced with each update. Currency of information contained in hardcopies and CDs should always be confirmed online.
